

i went to the markit yesturday and buyed some vegetabls, it was raining hard so i forgot to take umbrella i got soak and the bag broked so all the tomatos roll on the grond people was staring but nobody help me pick it up, i just laugh and walked away like nothing happen when i reach home my mom was like where is the groceryys and i telled her the story she dont believe me at first but then she saw the wet bag and smile, we ended up eatting noodle insted and watched a old movie wich also had bad sounnd so we just make our own dialogs it was funnier than the real lines lol